The Jubilee Building, Thatchers Cider

Client: Thatchers Holdings Ltd

Architect & EA: David James & Partners

Duration: 7 months

Project Value: £2.5 Million

Overview: Devon Contractors were responsible for the construction of a new 26,000sqft kegging, bottling and barrelling building for Thatchers Cider at Sandford, Somerset. Won through a traditional tender process, the biggest challenge was to meet the client's budget through extensive value engineering. Our construction programme was very tight and was fast tracked to fit within the apple harvest season. Site logistics were complicated and the associated infrastructure works had to be very carefully planned to avoid disrupting the clients ongoing business operation elsewhere across the site. This new building has created a growth for a very popular national brand based here in the South West.
